XCE is a new mountain bike race format in which four, five, or six riders compete against each other in each heat. The two or three fastest riders get to the next round while the two, three, or four slower riders are eliminated from the race.

Each rider will ride a time trial lap of the XCE course to qualify for the main event; riders will be ranked for the main event using their qualifying time.

A qualification time trial will determine each racer's position within the heats. Pre-registration will determine time trial start order.

The main event is limited to 32 racers, where 4 racers compete in each heat, with the top 2 moving forward, and the bottom 2 being eliminated. Please see the XCE Schedule at the end for more information, and a more in depth itinerary.

Final results will be calculated by position in final round, then by qualification time based on round.

**There will be a short rider's meeting at 6:50 pm to discuss the format of the race, and other important notes riders will need to know before racing. A white board will be posted at the registration table with race information and who moves onto which heat at what time**
